 Ein gutes Beispiel:

I got knowledge in a wide spectrum during my studies of electrical engineering and the specification of communication and electronic. In my Bachelor project I would like to zoom in the field of microcontrolling and programming. I can image myself working in a team creating a controller which get complex tasks to fulfill or a system to pilot a drone. These are examples for the direction I would like to focus on my studies.

In addition to the technical aspect, I want to work on my Bachelor project in a foreign country to improve my skills, working in an international research team and enhancing my technical English skills.

While searching for the project, I consulted Prof. Dr. Hoffmann who told me about your projects. According to this I would like to apply for a position in your research team.

The time period of my project starts in March 2016 and it will last 22 Weeks.
