Housing Information Summer Semester 2021:

To minimize risks of possible infection and to comply with current immigration regulations, the Housing Services has made every effort to place students from the same country or region in the same housing group. Rental periods have been designed to allow for a 14-day quarantine prior to the start of orientation days and the lecture period. During the quarantine, your faculty IFO (International Faculty Office) staff and buddies will assist you in terms of food supplies and purchasing bedding and linens. So keep these individuals informed of your arrival plans.

Students who have already been living in a Housing Service room since the winter semester and are extending their stay for the summer semester have been offered the opportunity to change their room and move into a housing group starting in February 2021, where only students will live who have been staying in Osnabrück or Germany for several months already.

We are all responsible at this time to monitor the incidence of infection and do our utmost to prevent the spread of the virus. Please be considerate of each other and observe the following rules for living together in student dormitories.

- Please always keep the minimum distance of 1,5m to other persons.
- If the minimum distance cannot be kept, wear a mouth-nose protection
- Please air the rooms regularly
- Wash your hands regularly and thoroughly
- Observe the cough and sneeze etiquette
- Observe the current contact restrictions
- Once again, please pay special attention to hygiene and cleanliness in your shared apartment
- Disinfect/clean the bathrooms and the kitchen, door handles and window handles
- Follow the instructions on the Corona website of the Osnabrück University of Applied Sciences https://www.hs-osnabrueck.de/corona

Thank you for your support!
